

OBAN. DUNOLLIE CASTLE.

LL441D

TUCK'S POST CARD.

CARTE POSTALE.

POSTKARTE.

Dunollie Castle was formerly a fortress of the "Lords of Lorne," and still remains in the possession of their descendants, the Macdougalls of Dunollie. It is picture-quely situated at the northern extremity of Oban Bay, and about one mile from the town. Its ivy-clad tower is a conspicuous feature either from the Gallanach Road or from the steamer entering the bay.
